DEAD BALL CHARLIE'S HIGHLIGHT OF THE WEEK

The Council of Club Announces

Life Members Day on Club Grand finals Day
@ Trust House Memorial Park
Saturday 3rd August

Details to follow.

This week we had 1869 hits on our Facebook posts plus we emailed over 200 people our newsletter.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT

Nunn Shield

Congratulations to Eketahuna who again retained the Nunn shield over Bush on a cold and wet Saturday 17-3. This week the Coasties are eyeing the shield up when they play Eketahuna on Saturday at Eketahuna.

Good luck to both teams. Who ever win this game will be the holder of the Nunn Shield for 2013.

Team Cards

Just a reminder we are still having problems with team cards coming in on time, and nick names are being used on the sheets. This makes it very difficult when we are collating "best n fairest" and also when Clubs request regrades.

Please use their correct names.

Team Cards Semi's & Finals Day

A reminder that team cards must be submitted on semi's & finals day as per the Council of Clubs rules, otherwise a $100 fine will be enforced.

Passes are available for $60

COMMUNITY RUGBY REPORT

Club WOF

Once club rugby finishes, through out August and September I will be calling on all clubs to do a Club WOF. This is a basic check on performance and this information collated goes to Sports NZ who analysis and send back to the clubs the results.

We gather the information for Sports NZ only.

This is also creating a relationship between the clubs and Sports New Zealand.

RDO REPORT

Thanks to the big crowd who turned out on Saturday to watch Wairarapa College vs. St Bernards at Trust House Memorial Park. It was great to see support from both teams with over 300 supporters.

We are calling for player nominations for our Representative teams in U14, U16, U18 & U20 grades. I will email club and school delegates by the end of week re this. Get the nominations in to me ASAP stacey@waibush.co.nz

Play Rugby!

SEMI FINALS ARE JUST OVER A WEEK AWAY

The top four Premier teams have been found with one round left and, in my view, each has the ability to win this competition. So let's look at these teams;

Eketahuna - they have at least three players in their forward pack alone who can dominate a match and win big games. And we haven't seen the best from their back three yet.

Pioneer – a much more disciplined side than last year and they have perhaps the best and most aggressive defence amongst this group. And we all know that defence wins big matches.

East Coast - just jam packed full of talent right across the park but, surprisingly, they have yet to put together a comprehensive full 80 minute display this year. Watch out. It's coming.

And Greytown - Playing through champions always have a mental advantage in the big games. Many of their players have been there and done that. They know what's required. But complacency or over confidence can work against any side and its knock out rugby now so they had better be on their guard.

So, there they are. It's shaping up to be a cracker of an end to this club season. There are two great games coming up in the semi finals in ten days time. Clear your calendars and get out and watch one of them. The semis are often better than the finals because there is so much to loose by coming second. And when you are as good as these four teams are, none of them will feel they have achieved if they don't make the finals –so entire season's achievements are on the line.

I can't wait. But I'll have to.
